Informa Tech recognizes Cerence's outstanding innovation and success of first-of-its-kind, proactive in-car assistant

BURLINGTON, Mass., June 08, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Cerence Inc. (NASDAQ: CRNC), AI for a world in motion, today announced that its Cerence Co-Pilot in-car assistant solution was honored with an Informa Tech Automotive Award, taking home the award for Cockpit of the Future Product of the Year. Cerence Co-Pilot, a first-of-its kind, multi-modal driving experience, transforms the automotive voice assistant into an intuitive, AI-powered companion that can support drivers like never before.

As Cockpit of the Future Product of the Year award winner, Cerence Co-Pilot was recognized for its outstanding technology and unique features alongside customer adoption and success. At the core of Cerence Co-Pilot is proactive AI and unprecedented integration with the car, creating an effortless experience that keeps drivers safe, comfortable, productive, and informed. It is designed to anticipate the needs of drivers by using AI and continuous learning to proactively initiate actions. Serving as the central brain of the car, it analyzes a combination of voice, gaze, gesture, and touch input and information from the car's sensors while flexibly and securely integrating edge technologies with cloud services to make driving more intuitive, connected, and enjoyable.

"We are honored to be recognized by Informa Tech for our work to deliver drivers an intuitive, proactive, deeply integrated cabin experience," said Stefan Ortman, CEO, Cerence. "Cerence Co-Pilot was designed to bring drivers a safer and more enjoyable journey, connecting effortlessly to every aspect of their lives while giving automakers the ability to create uniquely branded in-car assistants purposely built for the cabin of the future."

The winners of the Informa Tech Automotive Awards were announced during AutoTech: Detroit on June 7. These prestigious and anticipated awards celebrate the best talent, companies, products, and services working in automotive technology today.
